

    <h3>Do you provide pre-foreclosure prevention services?</h3>
    No. We focus specifically on post-foreclosure support. If you are facing foreclosure and have not yet lost your home, we recommend contacting a HUD-approved housing counselor or a foreclosure prevention program.

    <h3>What kind of help can I get?</h3>

We connect families with emergency housing, food assistance, pet shelter resources, job training and placement, financial education, second chance mortgage information, attorney referrals, and asset recovery guidance.

<h3>How do I request assistance?</h3>
Simply fill out our online request form on the Request Assistance page. Our team will review your inquiry and connect you with relevant resources and next steps.

<h3>Is there a cost for your services?</h3>
No. Our services are provided at no cost to the families we serve. We are a nonprofit organization funded by donations and grants.

<h3>What are surplus proceeds?</h3>
When a foreclosed property is sold at auction for more than the amount owed, the extra money is called surplus proceeds or overage. In some cases, the former property owner may be entitled to claim these funds. Eligibility depends on many factors including state law and deadlines.

<h3>Can you help me recover surplus funds?</h3>
We can help you understand whether surplus proceeds may be available in your case and connect you with resources and qualified attorneys. We do not file claims on your behalf or provide legal representation.

<h3>How long does the process take?</h3>
After you submit a request for assistance, our team will review your inquiry within 48-72 hours. The timeline for connecting you with resources depends on your specific needs and the availability of services in your area.

<h3>Is my information kept private?</h3>
Yes. We respect your privacy and will not share your information without your consent. Please review our Privacy Policy for details on how we collect, use, and protect your information.

    <h2>Section C — Let's Explore Your Potential Recovery Options</h2>

The Family Foreclosure Foundation seeks to help eligible former property owners and other qualifying individuals identify potential recovery opportunities following foreclosure. Each situation is different. Eligibility, available records, applicable deadlines, and the existence of recoverable funds must be reviewed individually. Submitting this application does not guarantee that funds are available or will be recovered.

<h2>Section D — Your Next Chapter: Rebuilding Stability and Working Toward Homeownership</h2>

At The Family Foreclosure Foundation, our mission extends beyond the recovery of funds. We want to help bridge the gap between foreclosure and a more stable future for you and your family. Through community partnerships and appropriate referrals, we aim to connect eligible individuals and families with resources such as housing assistance, job training, employment placement, financial education, and other programs that may support long-term stability and a future path toward homeownership. We believe that rebuilding a family also strengthens a community. Your participation, goals, and willingness to explore available resources can help us better understand how to support you.

<label>If funds are successfully recovered or otherwise become available to you, would you be interested in exploring community resources that could help you rebuild stability and work toward homeownership again?</label> <label><input type="radio" name="interest_resources" value="yes_welcome"> Yes, I would welcome information about available resources</label><label><input type="radio" name="interest_resources" value="yes_jobs"> Yes, particularly job training and employment opportunities</label><label><input type="radio" name="interest_resources" value="yes_housing"> Yes, particularly housing, financial education, or homeownership resources</label><label><input type="radio" name="interest_resources" value="maybe"> Maybe; I would like to learn more before deciding</label><label><input type="radio" name="interest_resources" value="recovery_only"> I am primarily seeking assistance with my recovery

  <h1>Asset Recovery</h1>
  Depending on the circumstances, some former property owners may have options involving surplus proceeds or other recoverable funds after foreclosure.
</section>

<section class="fff-content-section">
```

```

    <h3>What Are Surplus Proceeds?</h3>
    When a foreclosed property is sold at auction for more than the amount owed on the mortgage (including fees and costs), the extra money is called surplus proceeds or overage. In some cases, the former property owner may be entitled to claim these funds. However, this depends on many factors, including state law, the presence of junior lienholders, and applicable deadlines.

    <h3>Who May Be Eligible?</h3>
    Eligibility for surplus proceeds depends on the specific facts of each case, including the state and county where the foreclosure occurred, whether there were junior liens on the property, and whether applicable claim deadlines have passed. Not every former homeowner is entitled to surplus funds. Each case requires individual review.

    <h3>Time Limits</h3>
    Most states have strict deadlines for claiming surplus proceeds. These deadlines vary by jurisdiction and can range from a few months to several years after the foreclosure sale. It is important to act promptly and understand the deadlines that may apply to your situation.

    <h3>How We Can Help</h3>
    The Family Foreclosure Foundation can help you understand whether surplus proceeds may be available in your case, connect you with resources to search for unclaimed funds, and refer you to qualified attorneys who can assist with the claims process. We do not file claims on your behalf or provide legal representation.

    <h3>Important Considerations</h3>
    Be cautious of companies that contact you offering to recover surplus funds for a large percentage fee. While some legitimate services exist, there are also scams that target former homeowners. We recommend working with a qualified attorney and understanding your rights before signing any agreement.
